THE PRIME MINISTER'S PRIZES FOR SCIENCE 2027

Nominate now – great ideas come from people with different life experiences

When more women take part in science, technology, engineering and maths, our whole community benefits from fresh perspectives.

Do you know a woman leading the way in scientific research, research-based innovation, the practice of Aboriginal and Torres Islander knowledge systems or science teaching?

The prizes celebrate the breadth and diversity of Australia's best talent. Help us celebrate the women making a real difference in our network.

Nominations close 7 January 2027 at 5:00 pm AEDT.

Start your nomination early and don't miss the closing date.
