The Steelforce business is 100 percent Australian owned and managed. The company has a commitment to providing quality products, superior customer service and value to customers. For these reasons Steelforce build their steel tube mills in China endeavouring to provide high quality products with competitive pricing for the industry.

Commissioned in 2006 the Steelforce Dalian facility now runs two pipe and tube mills and two steel coil slitters. The facility is operational seven days a week manufacturing products that fully comply with Australian & New Zealand Standards.

Owning and operating its own tube mills, Steelforce can offer many advantages for the steel pipe and tube customer. With Steelforce you are dealing directly with the manufacturer. You have the convenience of special length ordering, product traceability and Standards compliant product with direct and reliable supply.
