Thanks Simon. Have incorporated some additional changes and suggestions into the attached.

Generally looking much better, but I think there is still some work to do to:

- s22

- expand the section on worker impacts and how we will monitor and deal with these, and call out that harms are not just caused by AI but technology in general e.g. work intensification and surveillance

Chat tomorrow.

Workers and unions must have a strong voice in how AI is adopted across workplaces. The government will work with unions and industry representatives to ensure AI technologies are introduced transparently, safely, and in ways that allow workers to share in the benefits. This includes embedding foundational digital literacy and maintaining workplace relations settings that promote fair, balanced, and collaborative environments.
