Hi s22

Thank you very much for the prompt reply. I have consulted with colleagues about availability and I think the best time is probably the morning slot of the 28th.

I'll send around an invite for 10-11 am that you can forward as needed.

Cheers,

s22

Hi s22

Yes I think it would be a good idea to catch up. Those topics are of interest to us as well and we have some other related research on them which I can bring along and discuss. Here are some suggested times I could meet until the end of the month:

22nd: 9-11, 3-5

23rd: 10-12, 2-4

27th and 28th: 10-12, 2-5

30th: 9-12, 3-4

Regards

Hi s22

Thank you for the presentations on your GenCost work so far. The Decarbonisation and Energy Economics team at DISR has been part of these and have passed on the highlights to teams where energy costs are important consideration in their work. After following up with them, I think there is an appetite for a further presentation from CSIRO, if possible for you, to a wider DISR audience.

s22

Thank you in advance for your time.

Kind regards,

s22

Hi s22

Thanks for sharing the slides, always very helpful and thanks again for the preso!

Noted about not sharing beyond government. I've just cc'd the teams and individuals participating, all within DISR.

Hope you enjoy your long-service leave, well deserved!

Cheers,

s22

Hi s22

Thanks again for the opportunity to share our work. The presentation is attached. Please keep inside government as some research is not in the public domain.

Note that I have some long service leave starting in two weeks that will take me out until end of March. If there are any questions that come up while I am away I've copied in s47G(1)(a) who did a lot of this modelling as an alternative contact.

. But note that GenCost recently said all forms of energy investment were getting more expensive – nonetheless, firmed renewables remain the cheapest option to replace aging assets.
