Customs Act 1901

Customs (Preliminary Affirmative Determinations) Direction 2015

Steel corner beads & angles

exported to Australia from the People's Republic of China

Investigation No 650 into alleged dumping and subsidisation

Day 60 Status Report

Introduction

This Status Report concerns the investigation into the alleged dumping and subsidisation of steel corner beads & angles (the goods) exported to Australia from the People's Republic of China (China). The report reflects the status of the investigation at day 60.

This Status Report sets out the reasons why I, Isolde Lueckenhausen, Acting Commissioner of the Anti-Dumping Commission (the commission), have not made a preliminary affirmative determination (PAD) on day 60.

I note that I may make a PAD at any time from day 60 onwards if I am satisfied the requirements of section 269TD(1) of the Customs Act 1901 (Cth)¹ have been met.

Background

On 28 August 2024, I initiated an investigation into the alleged dumping and subsidisation of the goods after Rondo Building Services Pty Ltd (Rondo) made an application under section 269TB. Further details can be found in the public notice published on 28 August 2024 (refer to Anti-Dumping Notice (ADN) 2024/058 at www.adcommission.gov.au).²

Under section 269TD(1), I may make a PAD at any time not earlier than 60 days after I initiate an investigation in relation to the publication of a dumping duty and countervailing duty notice, if I am satisfied that:

- there appears to be sufficient grounds for the publication of such a notice, or
- it appears that there will be sufficient grounds for the publication of such a notice subsequent to the importation into Australia of such goods.

¹ All legislative references in this report are to the Customs Act 1901 (Cth) unless otherwise specified.

² Electronic public record (EPR) 650, document no 3.

In accordance with the Customs (Preliminary Affirmative Determinations) Direction 2015 (the Direction), 60 days after the initiation of such an investigation I must either make a PAD or provide a Status Report outlining the reasons why I have not made a PAD.

Information before me at day 37

In deciding whether to make a PAD on day 60 of this investigation, I have, in accordance with section 269TD(2), had regard to:

- Rondo's application
- data from the Australian Border Force import database, and
- the following information received within 37 days after the date of initiation of the investigation:
 - submissions from the applicant and an importer in response to the initiation of the investigation
 - two exporter responses to the preliminary information request (PIR), and
 - part A of the importer questionnaire responses from two importers.

Reasons for publishing a Status Report

The commission is required to examine various issues in the investigation, including:

- export prices and normal values of the goods exported from China
- whether, because of a situation in the Chinese domestic market, sales of like goods in this market are not suitable for use in determining normal values under section 269TAC(1)
- the level (if any) of countervailable subsidies received by exporters from China
- volumes of the goods exported from China
- the Australian market for the goods.

These issues are critical to ascertain:

- if the goods exported from China have been dumped at above negligible levels
- if the goods exported from China have been subsidised at above negligible levels, and
- whether those goods, if dumped or subsidised at above negligible levels, have caused or are causing material injury to the Australian industry.

These issues are critical to determining whether there are sufficient grounds for the publication of a dumping duty notice and a countervailing duty notice in respect of goods exported from China.

At this time, and on the basis of the evidence and the analysis undertaken to date, I am not yet satisfied that any injury to the Australian industry has been caused by any dumping or subsidisation that may have occurred. Accordingly, I am not yet satisfied that there appears to be sufficient grounds for the publication of dumping duty and countervailing duty notices on the goods exported to Australia from China and have not made a PAD.

Other considerations

Relevant matters – section 269TD(2)(b)

In accordance with the Direction and for the purposes of section 269TD(2)(b), I have considered the desirability of providing relief to an injured Australian industry as quickly as possible, where warranted.

I have decided it is not yet warranted to make a PAD, at this particular time, because I am not yet satisfied that there appear to be sufficient grounds for the publication of dumping duty and countervailing duty notices for the reasons outlined above.

I will continue to assess the need for a PAD and may make one as soon as I am satisfied there appears to be sufficient grounds to do so on the basis of the evidence before me.

Reconsideration of making a PAD – section 269TDAA

The Direction requires me to reconsider whether or not to make a PAD at least once prior to the publication of Statement of Essential Facts (SEF) required under section 269TDAA.

I anticipate a case manager will be assigned in early December 2024 and an Australian industry visit will occur in early 2025. I am due to publish the SEF on 30 May 2025. Prior to the publication of the SEF, or in the SEF, I will advise whether I made a PAD and the reasons for the decision.
