On March 15, Lu Tianbao, a representative of the National People's Congress, Secretary of the Party Committee of the Group, and Chairman of the Board of Directors, presided over a meeting to implement the spirit of the "two sessions" across the country. Convey and study the spirit of General Secretary Xi Jinping's important speech at the two sessions of the country and the main content of the government work report, emphasizing that thoughts and actions must be quickly unified with the spirit of General Secretary Xi Jinping's important speech and the arrangements for the two sessions of the country, accurate positioning, and stability. Take responsibility, take practical actions to more firmly defend the "two establishments" and achieve "two maintenances", promote high-quality development in an all-round way, and strive to write a new chapter of Chinese-style modernization in Lubei.

The meeting pointed out that the grand goal of building a strong country and rejuvenating the nation is encouraging and inspiring. To implement the spirit of the two sessions, we must combine the reality of the enterprise and the development of the enterprise to do our own things well. As a local pillar enterprise, Lubei Group must keep in mind the mission of the enterprise, keep the bottom line of safety and environmental protection, closely focus on the central task of the group, and strive to achieve an operating income of more than 20 billion yuan. Comprehensively cultivate new momentum for development, build new advantages for the group's development, and drive high-quality development of the regional economy.

The meeting pointed out that we should pay attention to the transformation of ideas and concepts, and urge the improvement of enterprise management. The operating benefits of an enterprise are created by people. Leaders at all levels must keep pace with the times, go to the grassroots to understand the situation, and go out to learn more. In particular, they must abandon old ideas and continuously improve their ability to start a business. The top leaders of each unit must play the role of "locomotive" well, and must be able to unite people's hearts, bring out the team, achieve performance, and promote the improvement of corporate management efficiency. The performance of the year should be based on actual performance, without reason or discount.

According to the requirements of the meeting, do a good job in policy docking and strive to implement policies that benefit enterprises. The national "Two Sessions" raised the level of economic development to a new height. Next, there will be more policies to boost the economy, as well as research and docking activities in provinces, cities and counties. The departments communicate with each other, actively solve the practical problems of the enterprise, and promote the development of the enterprise.

Chen Shuchang, deputy secretary of the party committee and Jiang Yunde, general manager, put forward requirements and made arrangements for the implementation of the spirit of the "two sessions".
