Impact of an all exporter review of measures

Where a review of measures applies to all exporters of the goods generally (that is, not a single exporter), the changes to the notice(s) that result from the review may apply to all relevant exporters of the goods, including past applicants for an accelerated review. This means that changes to a notice as an outcome of an all-exporter review of measures may replace an earlier published outcome of an accelerated review.

In determining whether the applicant is an associate of an exporter whose exports were examined in relation to the application for publication of the notices(s), answer the following (s 269TAA(4) refers):

- (a) Are both natural persons?
  If yes:

- (d) Is one of them, being a natural person, an employee, officer or director of the other (whether or not a body corporate)?
- (e) Are they members of the same partnership?

8. Provide a statement setting out the basis on which you consider the particular dumping or countervailing duty notice is inappropriate, so far as the applicant is concerned.

Master Steel seeks an accelerated review of the notice as it is currently subject to the country-wide dumping duty rate of 9.3% outlined in ADN 2018/10 following completion of investigation 418. This rate reflects the dumping margins determined for non-cooperating exporters, and which were based on the highest weighted average normal value for all cooperating exporters in Indonesia excluding all downwards adjustments, and the lowest weighted average export price of cooperating Indonesian exporters.

As Master Steel did not export the goods to Australia during the original investigation period, and the Indonesian measures have not been reviewed since their original imposition in 2018, it has not had the opportunity to participate to allow for an individual determination of its ascertained variable factors. Given the methods used to determine the ascertained variable factors for non-cooperating exporters, the current interim dumping duties are clearly inappropriate, as they do not reflect Master Steel's actual circumstances.

Therefore, Master Steel requests the determination of ascertained variable factors based on its own domestic sales and costs.

Contemporary export prices

Master Steel has no contemporary export prices to Australia.

Contemporary normal values

Master Steel has estimated contemporary domestic prices using publicly available data relating to price offers for reinforcing bar in Indonesia. The pricing information is taken from the following sources:

- https://metamoa.co.id/, and
- https://www.pangeranjayakartabaja.com/

The prices quoted on these sites are inclusive of VAT, and Master Steel has calculated the average IDR price per kg (excluding VAT), before converting to USD per metric tonne. Master Steel contends that the published contemporary prices for steel rebar sold in Indonesia provides a more accurate measure of comparable normal values. Please also note that the domestic prices are based on the higher domestic grade BjTS 420B.

Based on the data from the graph, Master Steel estimates the normal value to be approximately IDR [redacted]/kg, which converts to approximately US$[redacted]/mt based on the prevailing average quarterly exchange rates.

Contemporary dumping margin

Based on the published domestic prices outlined above, Master Steel estimates the following contemporary variable factors:

- export price = not applicable
- normal value = US$[redacted]/mt
- dumping margin = 0%.

This would result in a floor price measure set at US$[redacted]/mt, which would apply to Master Steel's future exports of steel reinforcing bar.
