Dear Director,

Public File

Investigation No. 691 – Aluminium windows & doors from China
Industry submission in support of the investigation and measures

As you are aware from previous submissions by Capral Limited (Capral) in respect of Investigation No 691, Capral welcomes and fully supports this investigation and the imposition of anti-dumping and countervailing measures on aluminium windows and doors (AWDs) exported from China.

Capral considers that dumped and subsidised imports of AWDs from China adversely affect Australian AWD manufacturers and the broader domestic aluminium supply chain. Capral supports effective measures to restore fair competition and protect Australia's domestic manufacturing capability.

In previous correspondence, Capral provided letters from customers and other participants in the Australian AWD industry. Those letters supported the investigation and the imposition of anti-dumping and countervailing measures, and set out the material injury suffered as a result of dumped AWDs imported from China. Capral provides additional examples in this submission as further evidence of that injury.

The enclosed is submitted on a Commercial-in-Confidence basis. The details provided are confidential as they include customer details and other commercially sensitive information, including information about business size, capacity and financials, as well as claims relating to injury and causation. The enclosed is also confidential to protect the business concerned from possible adverse commercial consequences arising from public disclosure of their participation in the inquiry.

Capral trusts that the enclosed will assist the Commission in its assessment of material injury to the Australian industry and the in the consideration of measures to be imposed.

Please contact the writer should the Commission require any further information or clarification.

Yours sincerely,
