

Investigation No. 507

Power Transformers exported to Australia from the People's Republic of China

Note for file

Meeting with Powerlink Queensland

The Anti-Dumping Commission (the Commission) conducted a teleconference with representatives from Powerlink Queensland on 12 June 2019 in relation to the Commission's investigation into power transformers exported to Australia from the People's Republic of China.

The following issues were discussed during the teleconference:

- the factors the Commission takes into consideration during a dumping investigation, including how the Commission assesses injury to the Australian industry producing like goods;
- the power transformer market in Australia; and
- the factors taken into consideration by Powerlink Queensland in its power transformer procurement decision making.
