Important Note

¹Trading EBITDA is EBITDA adjusted for significant items that are material items of revenue or expense that are unrelated to the underlying performance of the business. Capral believes that Trading EBITDA provides a better understanding of its financial performance and allows for a more relevant comparison of financial performance between financial periods. These items are JobKeeper benefit ($11.907 million), LME revaluation and unrealised foreign exchange differences ($0.839 million), other one-off costs that are non-recurring in nature and including the depreciation and interest on Right of Use assets as proxy for rent ($16.570 million). Trading EBITDA is presented with reference to the Australian Securities and Investment Commission Regulatory Guide 230 "Disclosing non-IFRS financial information" issued in December 2011. Normalised earnings excludes JobKeeper and deferred tax benefit.

²TRIFR is total reportable lost time and medically treated injuries per million work hours.

COVID and JobKeeper

Capral continued to operate throughout the period of COVID restrictions. A number of initiatives were implemented to safeguard employees and the business:

- Strict range of protocols for hygiene, cleaning, social distancing and COVID risk plans at all sites
- Business travel curtailed and restrictions imposed on visitor access to sites
- Work from home arrangements introduced for non-operational staff
- Qualified for JobKeeper in May allowing all Capral employees' jobs to be retained
- JobKeeper funds set aside to invest in job creating capital projects
 - Smithfield extrusion plant acquisition 2021 ($9m)
 - NSW paint line 2022 ($3m)

Aluminium Price

Source: London Metals Exchange; Reuters

- MJP premiums have been relatively stable since major fluctuations in 2014 – 2015
- LME declined 14% during 1H20 (from $A2,595/t to $A2,243/t). 2H20 saw a reversal of the decline ending the year up 4% at $A2,686/t

Outlook

- LME¹ is forecast to be at higher levels throughout 2021
- AUD weakened to ~$US0.67 early in 2020 but recovered to $US0.77 at year end. It is forecast to remain at that level through 2021²
- Residential commencements are expected to recover to around 185,000 units in 2021³. The recovery is led by detached housing growing by 17%, partially offset by decline in multi-res, especially high rise.
- Non-Residential construction is forecast to rebound
- Industrial sector anticipated to remain reasonably strong
- Capral will continue to play a leading role in the pursuit of fair trade by:
 - Working with Government to strengthen anti-dumping measures
 - Monitoring and pursuing circumvention activities
 - Prosecuting new cases as required
- Acquisition of Smithfield extrusion plant will contribute from Q2 FY21 onwards
- Absent any unforeseen events, FY21 Trading EBITDA⁴ is expected to be between $21m to $23m and EBITDA between $38m and $40m. On that basis Capral would be in a position to continue the payment of a fully franked dividend
