Dear Director,

Non-Confidential

Investigation No. 691 – Aluminium windows & doors from China
Industry submission in support of the Statement of Essential Facts

1. Introduction

INEX Australia makes this submission to Investigation 691 (INV 691) concerning aluminium windows and doors (AWDs) exported to Australia from the People's Republic of China (China), in response to Statement of Essential Facts No. 691 (SEF 691), published on 14 October 2026.[1]

INEX Australia is an Australian manufacturer of aluminium extrusions, located in Victoria, supplying extrusions [and window and door systems] to AWD fabricators across the residential, multi-residential and commercial markets. INEX Australia is part of the Australian industry producing aluminium extrusions, the principal input to AWDs.

INEX Australia supports the findings in SEF 691, the preliminary affirmative determination and the taking of securities from 15 October 2026.[2]

2. Supportive observations on SEF 691

Having reviewed SEF 691, [Member] supports the Commissioner's preliminary findings, in particular that:

- window wall is within the goods, and the Australian industry supplies AWDs across Class 1 to Class 9 buildings and has available capacity to do so;[3]
- a particular market situation existed in China for AWDs, arising from the influence of the Government of China over the Chinese aluminium and glass markets;[4]
- every selected exporter other than Altop Facade Co., Ltd exported the goods at dumped prices;[5]
- the Australian industry has suffered material injury caused by dumped and subsidised imports;[6] and
- dumping and subsidisation may continue.[7]

Aluminium extrusions are the largest input to AWDs. As a supplier to Australian AWD fabricators, INEX Australia experiences the effect of dumped AWD imports directly. Each project lost by a fabricator to dumped imports is also lost extrusion volume for INEX Australia.

3. Matters of concern

Based on its review of SEF 691, [Member] has concerns with certain of the preliminary outcomes, being:

- the claims by interested parties that the injury suffered by the Australian industry is attributable to its own input costs, including the price of Australian aluminium extrusions, rather than to dumped imports;
- the six exemption requests, which the Commissioner has not yet considered;[8]
- the construction of the aluminium extrusion benchmark, and the consistency with which the Commission has assessed whether exporters' aluminium costs were affected;
- the aluminium subsidy findings, including whether the extrusions purchased by the selected exporters were sourced from state-invested Chinese producers; and
- the proposed ad valorem form of interim dumping duty, the administrative practicalities of how the measures will operate in future accelerated reviews, and therefore the efficacy of the measures.

To comprehensively reflect the position of the Australian aluminium extrusion industry, INEX Australia understands that Capral Limited (Capral), as the largest manufacturer and distributor of aluminium extrusions, will address SEF 691 via submission response. INEX Australia supports Capral's detailed representations on these matters, and requests that the Commission have regard to them in preparing the final report.

4. Conclusion

INEX Australia supports the findings in SEF 691 and the publication of dumping and countervailing duty notices on AWDs exported to Australia from China. [INEX Australia requests that the final report address the matters identified in section 3 above, having regard to Capral's submission.

Yours sincerely,

Tyrone D'Souza
